Summary

Learning Management is the central resource for delivery of all aspects of information. Skillsarena's flexible and scalable system is designed to allow existing material to be adopted quickly and delivered in a controlled and measured way.

With effective cost control high on every organisation's agenda, staff are forced to manage resources more efficiently. By consolidating information into a central Learning Management System, Skillsarena enable organisations to take control and implement reliable, relevant training and delivery of information. Courses can be created very quickly and easily, needing the minimum amount of administration and supervision.

Course content can be sourced from multi media platforms and enhanced simply using previously unobtainable materials. It can also extend to mentoring and forum interaction to maximise effectiveness.

Training will always form an integral part of employment and retention of talented staff. Skillsarena's Learning Management system provides the on-line delivery of a multitude of resources, which can be measured and rewarding.
